

Guest Lecture on Legal Services under the Legal Services Authority Act and Lok Adalat and Releasing of Free ICFAI Legal Aid Web Form

The Legal Aid Society of ICFAI Law School, Hyderabad, organized a guest lecture on Legal Services under the Legal Services Authorities Act of 1987 and Lok Adalat in the IFHE Auditorium on April 3, 2025. The introductory speech was delivered by Prof. M.D. Akbar Khan discussed the need for free legal aid services.

The guest lecture was presented by Sri Ch. Panchakchhari, the Member Secretary of the Telangana State Legal Services Authority. He elaborated on the purpose and importance of legal services for marginalized and weaker sections of society. The speaker provided details regarding the provisions of the legislation, the NALSA schemes, and their execution in Telangana and the persons entitled to free legal aid under the act. He emphasized the role of law students as para-legal volunteers who can offer free legal aid services. Additionally, he covered Lok Adalat's functioning and the importance and benefits of LOK-Adalat.

During the event, the Member Secretary of the Telangana State Legal Services Authority launched the ICFAI Free Legal Aid web form (<https://ifheindia.org/legaladvisor>), designed for the poor and marginalized community. This voice-recognized form enables even those who are illiterate to fill it out easily. The Member Secretary also visited the Legal Aid Clinic of the ICFAI Law School and appreciated the initiatives undertaken by the Legal Aid Society. Directed the law students to extend their support to the poor litigants by giving suggestions on legal issues and get the innocent poor litigants to the legal services institutions for the redressal of their issues

The vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. S. Kannan, Coordinator of the Legal Aid Society, who highlighted the internship facility offered by the Telangana Legal Services Authority to ICFAI Law Students. The event was organized under the mentorship of Prof. P. Ravisekhara Raju, Director of ICFAI Law School, Hyderabad, and the financial support from the IFHE Management.

ICFAI Law School Hosts Guest Lecture on Legal Services and Launches Free Legal Aid Web Form

DECCAN NEWS SERVICE

■ RANGAREDDY

The Legal Aid Society of ICFAI Law School, Hyderabad, organized a guest lecture on legal services under the Legal Services Authorities Act of 1987 and Lok Adalat at the IFHE Auditorium on April 3, 2025. The session aimed to raise awareness about free legal aid and its significance in ensuring justice for marginalized communities.

The event commenced with an introductory speech by Prof. M.D. Akbar Khan, who underscored the necessity of free legal aid services. The guest lecture was delivered by Sri Ch. Panchakchari, Member Secretary of the Telangana State Legal Services Authority. He elaborated on the purpose and importance of legal aid for weaker sections of society and provided insights into the provisions of the legislation, the NALSA schemes, and their implementation in Telangana.

He also highlighted the role of law students as para-legal volunteers who can contribute to providing free legal services. Additionally, he explained the functioning of Lok Adalat, particularly in the context of Telangana.

During the event, Sri Ch. Panchakchari launched the ICFAI Free Legal Aid web form (<https://ifheindia.org/legaladvisor>), a platform designed to assist the poor and marginalized sections of society. The form, equipped with voice recognition technology, enables even illiterate individuals to fill it out with ease. Following the launch, the Member Secretary visited the Legal Aid Clinic at ICFAI Law School and commended the efforts of the Legal Aid Society in extending legal assistance to those in need.

The vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. S. Kannan, Coordinator of the Legal Aid Society, who emphasized the internship opportunities provided by the Telangana State Legal Services Authority for ICFAI Law students. The event was organized under the mentorship of Prof. P. Ravisekhara Raju, Director of ICFAI Law School, Hyderabad, with financial support from the IFHE Management.