

ENVIRONMENT DAY REPORT

The Environment Day was celebrated on June 5th 2025 by the Director ICFAITech Prof. K.L. Narayana. The celebration was done along with the Associate Dean Dr. Anjanna Matta and all other Associate Deans and Head of the departments. They have planted trees around the campus on the Environment Day to keep a good nature in the environment. Environment Day is a global event dedicated to raising awareness and encouraging action for the protection of our planet. It reminds us of the urgent need to address environmental issues such as climate change, deforestation, pollution, and biodiversity loss. On this day, individuals, communities, and governments around the world come together to plant trees, clean up local areas, promote sustainable practices, and educate others about the importance of preserving nature. It is a powerful reminder that the Earth is our shared home, and every small step we take—like reducing plastic use, conserving water, or supporting green initiatives—can make a big difference in securing a healthier, greener future for generations to come.
