Overview:

Many professionals experience fear and dread when asked to speak in public. Since public speaking is regarded as an indispensable but difficult art, professionals who excel in delivering their message to an audience are immediately perceived as excellent communicators and as being appropriate candidates for leadership roles. To advance oneself professionally, it is essential to improve one's capacity to deliver a persuasive speech or talk - whether the speech in question is an informal or impromptu talk delivered by a leader to his or her team-members designed to encourage, motivate and inspire them; or a formal presentation of your organization's mission delivered to the public-at-large.

Objectives:

A workshop is being planned to be organized at Faculty of Science and Technology, Department of English on 28th & 29th April, 2022. The aims of this workshop are to know

1. How to excel at public speaking while getting rid of fear of speaking at any public set up.
2. How to structure the speech to enhance presentation skills.
3. The blueprint for creating excellent power point/keynote slides.
4. How to answer any question in Q and A session.

Registration is open to:

- Faculty Members
- Research Scholars and
- Personnel with basic knowledge in the core subjects.
